BETHANY MAUNDRELL

I am an experienced and enthusiastic music student with a keen interest in marketing. I have been furthering my knowledge in the music industry as a student for the past 4 years. While my musical background is mainly from a performance and theoretical standpoint, I have always been fascinated by the marketing industry, stemming from my previous placement opportunities in the creative marketing sector.

INTERESTS

I enjoy spending my free time song writing and honing my skills on both the piano and guitar. I am an avid reader and spend most evenings reading to relax and unwind. As well as this, I have created a music marketing agency, allowing me to hone my acquired marketing skills while helping me network and understand the inner workings of this complex industry. I love watching live music and try to spend my free time either performing or watching local bands.
